Schools, Children, Photographs and videos

The well being and safeguarding of children we work with is our main priority. As part of our festival projects, we may take photographs and record images of individuals for the purpose of recording the event and the work being done.

The Charity obtains opt in consent from relevant adults for:

- Audio visual media taken at any of our events involving children
- Qualitative evaluation
- Quotes and case studies

The Charity uses photographs:

- To promote the work of the Charity online, through its website and in newsletters sent to funders, donors and trustees and on promotional posters.
- Outside of the Charity through external agencies and partners such as local and national newspapers.

Consent can be refused or withdrawn at any time. If consent is withdrawn, the Charity will delete the photograph or video and not distribute it further.

When using photographs and videos in this way we will not accompany them with any other personal information about the child, to ensure they cannot be identified.

We do not knowingly collect or maintain personal information from persons under 16 years of age on our website and no part of the website is directed to persons under this age. We do not collect children's data in order to directly market to children.

Online application forms are stored electronically and password protected.

We take the principles of data minimisation and removal seriously and have internal policies in place to ensure that we only ever ask for the minimum amount of data for the associated purpose and delete that data promptly once it is no longer required.
